George Aaron, President and CEO, stated, “With the majority of our state approvals in place, we are now very focused on accelerating the introduction of our proprietary SteriMed products to the domestic marketplace. Ishai and Paul both bring to the Company broad experience. Ishai brings considerable expertise in the marketing of sophisticated and technical products which will prove valuable as we look to drive domestic sales. Paul’s background in the waste and medical waste markets will help MCM focus on and penetrate the niche market segments which the Company has identified.”
